ABSTRACT

A medium bears a deformable model configured to enable a machine to estimate positions of four points defined by X and Y coordinates, each of the points representing a facial

5   element position in a digital image.

20661714.doc